

Protection of the Reef

Indonesia is an economically developing country. The conscience of the need to protect the environment is only at its beginning.

We ask you to show the good example by :

- not bringing over too much plastic or non bio-degradable materials. Or to bring them back home with you. We have electricity on board to charge batteries.
- not throwing overboard cigarets or plastics,
- not walking on reef,
- not touching corals and other inhabitants of the reef,
- controlling your buoyancy, direction, and fin kicks. Our guides are happy to help you review these technics.
- controlling your position underwater while taking pictures,
- not picking up anything while diving even if you think the animal is dead,
- not buying any handycraft made of turtle, or souvenir such as shark jaws, shells, corals,
- not eating dishes made of turtle, shark or any other endangered specy.

Thanks for your cooperation.
